- Wreaths Across America

The Chapter President, Ron Turner discussed the chapters goals for the number of wreaths that want to obtain this year and that we should refocus our efforts on Oakwood Cemetery.

- National Museum of the Army

Ron Turner reminded us that we could still purchase memorial bricks at the National Museum of the Army with the name of someone who had fought in one of the many conflicts of this great country.

➤ Tombstone at Oakwood Cemetery

James Alderman brought to our attention that there is a “true daughter of the American Revolution” buried at Oakwood Cemetery and that her headstone is badly in need on restoration / repair. He has taken the initiative to propose a new headstone installed that would honor her connection to the American Revolution. A discussion was started about financing the tombstone. Any decision was postponed until more input could be gathered.
